HAL HARVEY

Advisory Board Member

Hal Harvey is the CEO of Energy Innovation, a San Francisco-based energy and environmental policy firm. Since its inception in 2012, Energy Innovation has delivered high-quality research and analysis to policymakers around the world and across a range of jurisdictions to help inform their energy policy decisions. From 1991-2002, Harvey served as founder and CEO of the Energy Foundation, a philanthropy supporting policy solutions that advance renewable energy and energy efficiency. He then helped establish Energy Foundation China, the European Climate Foundation, and the Indian Sustainable Energy Foundation.

From 2002-2008, he was the director of the Environment Program at the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, and served on energy panels appointed by Presidents Bush (41) and Clinton. He is President of the Board of Directors of the New-Land Foundation, Chairman of the Board of MB Financial Corporation, and Vice Chairman of the Scientific Advisory Board for Mercator Climate Center. He is also a Senior Fellow for Energy and the Environment at the Paulson Institute. In 2016, he was awarded the Heinz Award for the Environment, and in 2018 he was honored with the United Nation's Clean Air and Climate Change Award. Early in his career, Harvey designed and built solar homes, and built an electric car for his commute. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Stanford University in Engineering, specializing in Energy Planning.
